1986 Annual AICPA Staff Meeting Honors Employee Promotions and Service Milestones

Meeting for the first time in the new Marriott Marquis, 470 AICPA employees gathered together on December 24 for their 1986 Annual Staff Meeting, brunch, and holiday party. The 25 members of the Washington Office held their own meeting in the Institute's D.C. offices before adjourning to a local restaurant for lunch. In New York, the staff viewed several films produced by the AICPA Public Relations Division, listened to President Philip B. Chenok's annual message, and honored employees who had been promoted or who had achieved significant milestones in their careers over the past year.

The meeting was followed by a beautifully presented and delicious buffet brunch.

Phil Gershfeld (L) receiving the cuckoo clock featured in the staff-produced film, "30 Minutes". Presenting the award is Group Vice President Ken Kerin, ably assisted by his "9 to 5" Administrative Assistant, Maritza Afanador. Other award winners were Dave Einhorn, Art Lodge, and Linda Pierce.

Most staff members shared George Dick's reaction to the film "30 Minutes".
